

Percent of college completers by location of institution

A large majority of Northeast high school graduates complete their post-secondary education in the region.

