

Predicted Likelihood of Persistent No-Record Status by Selected Characteristics

English learner status, and Hispanic, Asian/Pacific Islander, and Black identity are all independently associated with higher odds of persistently having no Minnesota employment record.

