

Predicted Likelihood of Persistent No-Record Status by Protective Characteristics

Attempting postsecondary education, ACT and PSEO participation, CTE engagement, economic disadvantage, and Gender are all independently associated with lower persistent no-record status.

