

Risk of weak workforce attachment is concentrated among non-college graduates

Non-college graduates are substantially more likely to experience non-sustained workforce participation or lack a Minnesota employment record

